When we receive a request from a homeowner, we waste no time in getting them the pricing information they need in order to make a decision that is best for their home. And the quality of the materials is just as important as the quality of the installation. In a recent customer review, Mia T. gave them a five star rating and said, "McHenry Roofing is located near our Highlandtown neighborhood in Baltimore. I've seen their roofing crews around Baltimore and have always seen them working hard whether it was the hottest day in the summer or coldest day in the winter. A few weeks ago I saw a roof leak during one the summer's heavier storms and decided to give them a call. After reviewing their roof inspection report we decided to go with a new torch down roof. They did an excellent job and are the Baltimore roof company we'll call if anyone in our extended family finds a roof leak in the future.?"

On Porch, McHenry Roofing has also highlighted some of its recently completed projects. For instance, they had recently completed a roofing coating project in Baltimore. It was observed that the torched down membrane of the flat roof was already starting to show signs of aging because the seams were loose and the owner had noticed a leak in the back bedroom. The professional roofers from McHenry Roofing sealed the loose seams, flashed the skylight, and coated the roof with a fibered aluminum roof coating to seal any holes and prevent the leak.

In another recently completed project, McHenry Roofing installed vinyl sidings for a rowhome in Baltimore. The professionals from McHenry Roofing replaced the vinyl siding, wrapped the windows, and then installed new gutters on the back of the rowhouse.
