Pembroke Pines, Florida - September 08, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

EPS Landscaping & Tree Service LLC, a company that offers residential and commercial landscaping services, wants to inform everyone that they also provide tree removal service in Pembroke Pines and Broward County, FL. They also need to deal with trees because trees are a fundamental part of the landscape of homes in Pembroke Pines. Trees offer a lot of benefits, such as air purification, carbon dioxide fixation for photosynthesis, decrease in stormwater runoff, habitat creation, noise reduction, and more. This is why EPS also provides quality tree services. However, in certain situations, tree removal may be required, for instance, when a tree is sick and dying, or a tree is dead, a tree has been felled by a storm, or when a tree is positioned in such a way that it poses a danger to people and property. In such cases, they are ready to remove such trees efficiently and safely.

Knowing where to go to when faced with the need for removing a tree that was damaged by a storm is vital, especially at this particular time of the year when hurricanes are prevalent in Florida. While the first hurricane for 2022 arrived late, experts warned people not to be complacent. August and September are frequently the most active months for tropical storms in Florida. However, the first hurricane for 2022 in the form of Hurricane Danielle had just only arrived, although it appears to be accompanied by Tropical Storm Earl, which has shown some signs of becoming a hurricane.

Scientists are still investigating why August had been an unusually calm month despite rising temperatures that were supposed to fuel more intense hurricanes. Hurricanes are believed to be useful in redistributing heat, but this summer there have been little need for them because sunny conditions have brought a heat wave to the northern latitudes and increased ocean temperatures in the far north, which means there was little need for hurricanes to transport heat. However, experts warn that the few hurricanes that will form will carry a lot of water, which increases the risk of flooding, which is the primary cause of death from hurricanes.

Hurricanes could bring winds with a speed of 74 to 111 mph or even higher. People can expect trees to be felled or get damaged by such strong forces. As such, EPS is ready to provide emergency tree removal services.

Greg O'Connell, owner of EPS Landscaping & Tree Service, says, "Tree removal becomes necessary when a tree is dead or dying, when the tree's root system has failed, or when the tree poses a danger to people and property. You can count on us to remove such trees safely and efficiently, allowing the rest of your yard's vegetation to remain intact and thrive. Call us today for any tree services in Pembroke Pines, FL that you need."
