McHenry Roofing Becoming Well Known for Its Roof Flashing Repair Work in Baltimore

October 24, 2022

BALTIMORE, MD - October 24, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

McHenry Roofing, who many refer to as the best roofer in Baltimore MD, has an outstanding reputation when it comes to doing a wide variety of roofing services including whole roof replacement work. But the company owner, Joseph Conley, added that many of their other less well-known roofing services should not be overlooked either. This includes the highly detailed and reliable roof flashing repair work that the company provides to those in Baltimore County and the surrounding areas. Conley stated, "One of the most misunderstood aspects of having a completely weathertight roof is the role that flashing plays in this process. That's because the areas around chimneys, roof vents, skylights, and in roof valleys where flashing is typically placed are some of the most leak-prone areas on any roof. This is the reason we have made it our business to be a roof repair company that is highly proficient in all aspects of roof flashing repair." He continued by saying that anyone who has ever been on top of a roof will notice flashing, which consists of thin sheets of metal, is often placed around the base of roof protrusions such as chimneys and vents. This is done to seal the gaps that naturally occur between roof coverings such as shingles and other roof objects. The company owner says that this flashing often takes a beating during strong storms and other weather events and that's why they make it a point of emphasis to check roof flashing whenever they are requested to do a thorough roof inspection. If any problems with a roof's flashing are detected, they have the knowledge and experience to make that flashing area completely watertight once again.

Conley also discussed some of the other benefits of choosing his company to handle flashing or any other types of Baltimore area roof repairs besides just receiving prompt and reliable work that never overlooks even the smallest details on a job. This includes commercial and residential property owners getting expert roof consultations that are accompanied by next-day estimates. The work they perform is also done by experienced and well-trained in-house roofing crews that refuse to use anything but the highest quality roofing materials. He says that for bigger projects they are pleased to provide on-site project management and all the roofing work they do is accompanied by some of the best warranties in the industry. McHenry Roofing's owner added that his locally owned and operated company is proud to be part of the community that they live and work in and that's why they always go the extra mile for their customers. He also emphasized that the company has an excellent reputation when it comes to doing all types of commercial and residential roof repairs including roof replacements, leak detection & resolution, gutter & downspout installation, and adding gutter guards, skylights, and energy-saving sun tunnels.

Whether doing small but highly detailed work such as roof flashing repairs or more extensive jobs such as entire roof replacements, roofing company reviews show that McHenry Roofing's customers are often very happy with the services they received. Phillip Day stated, "McHenry Roofing repaired some flashing on our roof after a recent windstorm. They did quality work at an affordable price and for that reason have earned my trust. They're a popular roofer in Locust Point and several of my neighbors have used them in the past. If someone is looking for a roofer near Locust Point, they should reach out to McHenry Roofing." Stephanie Durdane wrote in her 5-star review, "I recently had my roof replaced by McHenry Roofing. I have had problems with the roof for years and tried many companies to come out to patch the leaks. Eventually, I said enough was enough and gave a few companies calls for quotes. McHenry Roofing had the best warranty and a fair price. Their customer service and the work provided were excellent. I will recommend them to any Baltimore homeowner who needs a flat or sloped roof replaced."

Conley also reminded that they provide quality roofing services to many Baltimore area neighborhoods such as Federal Hill, Otterbein, Riverside, Locust Point, Pigtown, Hollins Market, and Fells Point. Commercial and residential property owners that would like more information on the roofing services that the company offers can contact McHenry Roofing by phone, email, and through the use of the form found on their website.
