November 19, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

DVP Self Storage, a business based in Toronto, ON, Canada, have been in business for a considerable amount of time. During that time, they have built a reputation of always putting the needs of the customer first, coming up with innovative solutions for their storage needs. As such, they are proud to announce that they now offer climate controlled condo lockers.

"We have been offering a wealth of standard unit sizes for some time and had recently added some more unusual sizes as well," says a representative from DVP Storage. "To further improve on our services, we now also have a number of climate controlled condo lockers, which are also available in a range of different sizes."

The business offers two standard sized condo lockers, being 4x3x4 foot and 5x5x8 foot. Additionally, they have custom fit lockers available. Customers are encouraged to contact the company should they have a need to store items in a climate controlled environment to identify which locker is most suitable to their needs. The lockers can hold anything from golf boxes to furniture and art work.

Since having been in business, the company has worked together with hundreds of very satisfied customers, which has turned them into one of the most respected self storage Toronto businesses. "Incredible service, great storage facility!" says KrayV. "We stored our belongings for several months over winter. The staff were extremely friendly and our belongings were kept safe and well while we were away."

The storage lockers Toronto business is keen to inform customers that they also have a contract in place with U Haul. This enables those who are moving home or office to not only store their items, but have them moved for them as well. They encourage anyone who has a need for indoor storage solutions of any size, with or without climate control and for any period of time, to contact them as soon as possible to discuss their requirements and reserve a unit. Proud to offer affordable solutions to the Toronto market, the business guarantees that they will have a suitable unit available.
