Containers made from heavy-duty rubber are used to store and haul away a variety of waste and unwanted materials in an efficient and safe manner. Dumpster rentals are typically used to clean up areas in homes and commercial buildings while also supporting landscaping efforts and other projects. Industry-standard containers supplied by leading U.S.-based manufacturers are built to be extremely safe and durable. Each of the company's containers is driveway friendly, allowing easy and flexible placement as well as loading.

The containers can handle a variety of different types of waste, such as general debris, construction materials, yard waste, furniture, appliances, e-waste, and other garbage. But flammable and hazardous materials, such as paints, gasoline, motor oils, asbestos, and other items, are prohibited from being loaded into the containers by the company. The list of unacceptable materials that cannot be loaded into the containers is available upon request from Motor City Disposal. Certain materials, such as shingles, concrete, bricks, or dirt, cannot be loaded into our containers unless permission is obtained in writing from our company prior to the time that the container is delivered. Tires are also able to be taken away for an additional fee.

The company offers both medium and large options, including 10-yard and 20-yard. The 10-yard begins at $350 for up to seven days of rental time and three tons of waste disposal. This size measures 12' long by 6' wide by 4' high. According to the company website, this size is used for residential projects, including flooring removal or landscaping, as well as smaller-scale commercial projects. Additional days and extra weight are available for an additional fee of $35 per day and $55 per ton.

The 20-yard begins at $450 for up to seven days of rental time and four tons of waste disposal. This option measures 16' long by 6' wide and 5.5' high. Additional days and extra weight are available for an additional fee of $35 per day and $55 per ton.
