October 12, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Idaho Falls, ID: The Center for Aesthetics Idaho Falls (CFA), the "anti-med spa" aesthetic medicine clinic located in Idaho Falls, ID, is pleased to announce that they are offering Tixel laser-free skin tightening and resurfacing. Tixel is the latest technology being offered at CFA, founded in 1998 by Catherine Durboraw, MD. Tixel is a simple thermal technology that is capable of providing outstanding results without the use of a laser and with minimal to no downtime. Many patients describe it as virtually painless and can be used anywhere on the body.

Tixel has been available in Europe for almost 10 years before the CFA, and Dr. Durboraw's annual attendance at the Aesthetic Medicine World Congress in Monaco allowed them to be educated on this innovative technology. Dr. Durboraw had known about Tixel for quite some time, and she was really excited when it finally got approved by the US FDA. And CFA was one of the first 25 practices in the United States to acquire the technology in 2021. Since then, they have spent nearly a year exploring Tixel's capabilities, creating their own CFA-specific protocols, and integrating the device with their other technologies, such as Vivace microneedling, PRP regenerative medicine, and Ultherapy. They initially tested the treatment on themselves and their staff to develop exclusive treatment protocols and to ensure the safety and firsthand experience of Tixel technology's real potential when integrated with their other proven skin treatments.

Catherine Durboraw, MD, says, "At our Center for Aesthetics clinic in Idaho Falls, it is our promise to be your guide and personal cheering section through the years, counseling you on the best ways to prevent and address age-related concerns. We pride ourselves on personalized service and pledge not to "sell" you any treatments just because we own the technology. We love the lifelong relationships we've forged with so many of our patients " and want to build that trust with you too. Contact us for a consultation, and let us help you start a self-care journey you'll love."

Dr. Durboraw was very impressed with the results of the Tixel skin tightening and resurfacing treatment, and it was not long before their patients raved about it from their very first treatment. They noted the unique improvements in skin surface tightening and pigmentation previously unavailable for the minimal downtime required. They have observed that the best results came after three or more consecutive sessions, although improvements can be seen and felt after each Tixel session.

Catherine Durboraw, MD, founder of CFA, has been on a mission to share new methods for aesthetic care that are less invasive, natural, more innovative, and with real results since 1998. With her patient-first philosophy, CFA has become the regional leader in non-surgical aesthetic medicine treatments with clinics found in Arizona, Idaho, and Jackson Hole, WY. She is board certified, a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology American Society of Ophthalmic Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery (ASOPRS), and a fellowship-trained oculoplastic surgeon. She obtained her medical degree and completed her four-year residency in ophthalmology at The University of Tennessee in Memphis. She completed her ASOPRS fellowship in Albany, New York. She established her private practice in 1998 in Idaho Falls and immediately expanded her practice part-time to the resort destination towns of Sun Valley, Idaho and Jackson, Wyoming. In 2010, she started seeing patients in Scottsdale, AZ, on a concierge basis until she finally expanded to a full-time clinic in North Scottsdale.

Those who are interested in learning more about the Tixel skin resurfacing technology and other related treatments offered at the clinic in Idaho Falls can check out The Center for Aesthetics Idaho Falls website or contact them by phone or via email. They are open from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm, from Monday to Friday.
