As EMS explains, ISO Agents sell credit card processing and merchant services to merchants, improving the payment processing experience for their customers and increasing customer retention as a result.

Electronic Merchant Systems states, ?If you want to join an Agent Program that is completely dedicated to your success, the EMS Agent Program is the best choice for you. We work to give you the support you need to help you close more deals, increase your residuals, and help you get into challenging verticals. Over our 30 years in the payments industry, we have helped credit card processing agents become leaders in their industry, and we look forward to helping you do the same.?

EMS works with its merchant services agents to provide more opportunities to grow their business. The company also has one of the industry?s fastest merchant approval processes and continues to work to add more benefits to its partner program.

EMS says, ?Another way we support our Agents is with our Sundown Policy. With this policy, our Agents get a response from us by the end of the day. Often poor communication can lead to lost business, which means lost revenue. We want to ensure that we do everything we can to ensure our Agents succeed, and the Sundown Policy is one of the ways we do that.?

The Agent Program also offers unrivaled payment processing product solutions. EMS? ISO Agents can offer omni-channel processing solutions for their clients. They have access to cutting-edge solutions that include Maxxpay Point Of Sale, Total Touch® Point of Sale, and Convenupay, all of which enhance their experience with several state-of-the-art features.

There are many more benefits available to ISO Agents who partner with EMS. For instance, EMS agents have access to more sponsor banks than other agent programs, which allows them to close more deals and diversify their merchant portfolio.

Additionally, EMS will help agents become a registered ISO and will cover the expenses for qualified agents.

The representative says, ?We designed the EMS Agent program around the needs of ISO Agents, and we have done everything to make growing their businesses easier. Our work has helped many Agents across the country already, and we are looking forward to helping the Merchant Services Agents in Hawaii.?
