CHICAGO - Financial service and resource company Insurance Minded has recently launched its newest online directory of car insurance company reviews of some of the foremost local and national car insurance companies. Online shoppers for car insurance can now find the most up-to-date feedback on car insurance providers they are more than likely looking at for affordable auto insurance coverage.

"Our car insurance company reviews are based on several customers' experiences with each respective auto insurance provider or broker we looked at," says Insurance Minded CEO Ron Rossi. "These insurance company reviews are also concise and don't drag on; car insurance shoppers can really skim through them as well as read them thoroughly for all the pros and cons of any auto insurance company and broker before they get an auto insurance quote from them."

Insurance Minded has been a reliable online source for any level of insurance understanding for eight years running and has helped thousands of shoppers gain valuable insight when it comes to the sometimes complicated world of car insurance. Finances affect everyone, so it only makes sense that they should at least have some degree of awareness and knowledge of it. Their new insurance company review section contains reviews for more than 10 of the biggest name car insurance companies, along with some of the foremost local auto insurance agencies.

Our new insurance company review section has feedback for such auto insurance companies and brokers like Geico, Farmers, The General, and Allstate. We also take note of some of the more niche insurance businesses like AARP, Esurance, Metromile, and Insurance Navy. Affordable and even cheap car insurance can be found in a variety of places, and we really left no stone unturned, says Rossi.

These insurance company reviews include what and all when it comes to the insurance company in question, so car insurance shoppers will always be able to make an informed purchase while being aware of any tricks the insurance companies or brokers employ. They're also very honest with the chances of whether or not one could save money with them as an insurance broker or insurance company. Helpful tips when shopping for car insurance, in general, are also glossed over in each of the car insurance company reviews.

These auto insurance reviews are about more than whether or not these are good insurance companies and brokers, but how well they could benefit a customer from any given walk of life. Sometimes, car insurance isn't one size fits all and requires some digging. We pride ourselves on doing all the digging for our readers and customers, says Rossi.
