October 25, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Daphne, AL based Daphne Toy Box Storage is pleased to share that their facilities can be used to store boats of a variety of sizes. Customers will find that the company is now offering new options for the fall season.

Daphne Toy Box Storage states, "We have two sizes available: 18x35 and 18x50. They each have air conditioning and electricity as well as water spigot hookups near the doors. The units feature large roll-up doors as well as man doors. This will make it easier for customers who prefer to have climate-controlled environments for their property."

The company clarifies that they offer indoor boat storage options because they believe these are far superior to outdoor counterparts. While many boat owners may be accustomed to the convenience offered by their outdoor storage provider, they will inevitably have to deal with their precious property enduring more wear and tear during the off season than it has to. Outdoor storage makes it much more difficult to maintain a boat's pristine appearance, but Daphne Toy Box Storage provides complete protection from the elements. Rain or shine, the company says, boats stored in their units will be completely unaffected. Learn more at the

Since these units are generally used for long-term storage, the company has worked hard to develop a pricing system that is affordable ? without compromising the quality of service offered. The company states, ?Many, if not all, of our customers consider their boat their most prized possession, and we understand what safe storage is worth to them. You can?t put a price on peace of mind, but we believe our rates are more than satisfactory for the amenities we offer. Some customers may be satisfied with a regular storage unit that simply enables them to wheel their boat or other watercraft in and leave. Others will want full climate-controlled units that allow them to control the humidity and so on. Whichever you choose, you can rest assured that it won?t break the bank.?

Customers are able to access their property around the clock, and each unit is secured with a keyed entry code. Daphne Toy Box Storage also employs 24/7 video surveillance, and customers who check the location out will immediately spot their high perimeter fencing and broad lighting. The company has also maintained a carefully paved surface leading from the road to every unit, so customers will not have to worry about mud or grass being kicked up while they traverse the site. The company even utilizes a pest control service.

Daphne Toy Box Storage has received many positive reviews from their customers, and the company currently holds a 5-Star rating online. Most praise the storage provider for having clean facilities that are always accessible and deliver on its promises, especially where the care of customers? precious property is concerned. As L.
