

Bach Construction, A Custom Home Builder, Breaks Ground in Marietta, GA

October 18, 2022

October 18, 2022 -
Marietta, GA - Bach Construction, a name synonymous with quality craftsmanship and luxury homes, has recently broken ground on a project in Marietta, GA. Bach Construction is owned and operated by Cliff Hendricks, who has more than 25 years of experience in the construction field. Hendricks specializes in custom homes and high-end remodeling and is a well-known licensed contractor with new construction projects all over the state of Georgia.

Given the supply chain issues and price fluctuations brought upon by COVID-19, it is now more important than ever to work with an experienced home builder. When asked about the challenges faced and how builders and homeowners alike are working through them, Hendricks said, ?COVID has come with a number of issues. For example, homes that would have taken six months to complete a few years ago are now taking anywhere from eight to twelve months due to material availability, and then we?ve seen prices of material skyrocket. Working with a contractor who?s transparent and honest is now more important than ever.?

Bach Construction is a registered and licensed contractor located in Marietta, GA, with more than 25 years of experience. Bach Construction prides itself on building beautiful custom homes for their clients. Each home is built to the highest standards in collaboration with the client. When building a custom home, the team works closely with their clients to ensure they get their dream home.

To learn more about Bach Construction or to requisition more information about the custom home building process, interested parties may contact Cliff Hendricks or the Bach Construction marketing team. Parties may also visit the company?s website BuiltByBach.com for more information. Additionally, the latest news regarding the company be found on its website.

###

For more information about Bach Construction, LLC, contact the company here:Bach Construction, LLCCliff Hendricks678-664-9119cliff@builtbybach.com2134 Fox Hound Chase Atlanta, GA 30062

Bach Construction, LLC

We at Bach Construction are passionate about what we do. Our experience, quality, honesty and transparency set us apart from our competitors.

Website: https://builtbybach.com

Email: cliff@builtbybach.com

Phone: 678-664-9119

