November 20, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Falcon Relocation, a business in Phoenix, AZ, has been voted Best Movers in Phoenix in a community poll. Thousands of people were surveyed online in an attempt to measure opinions about various local businesses in different categories and Falcon Relocation came up on top in the moving and removal category for domestic and commercial properties. The business is very proud for this vote of confidence.

"Phoenix is a huge place and there are many removal companies out there," says a representative from the sales department at Falcon Relocation. "To be voted the best in our category is a true honor and we will make sure we continue to do our customers proud."

The survey looked at a number of areas in particular. It focused on reliability, quality of service, price, professionalism and customer attention. Ten moving companies across Phoenix were included for people to vote on, and Falcon Relocation received 57% of the votes overall. Their price and customer attention were particularly appreciated. One participant in the survey commented: "Moving house is an expensive, stressful time and any help is greatly appreciated. I was so happy to have found Falcon Relocation, who were able to offer me excellent value for money, as well as always being welcome to answer my questions, no matter how crazy they were. They truly made the entire experience more manageable."

Falcon Relocation offers both domestic and commercial relocation. While they have worked with businesses across many different industries, the majority of their commercial clients are in stores, restaurants, hospitality, storage and B2B services. Those surveyed noted, as well, that they liked the fact that the company focuses on both areas of removals and that they do not feel of secondary importance just because a domestic move is less profitable than a commercial one.

A final thing that tipped Falcon Relocation to the winning position was that those polled consistently said that Falcon Relocation also offers the best storage solution in Phoenix. Many people who move home or business have a need for temporary storage solutions and Falcon Relocation offers this, meaning that people do not have to coordinate different services.
