Revitalize You MD, a medical spa in Roswell, GA, is offering hormone replacement therapy (HRT) to counter the effects of aging and provide sexual wellness. Their licensed and certified medical staff have the relevant medical experience and knowledge to offer HRT treatment that may help in correcting hormone imbalance and restore the patient's vigor. Hormones are essential because they are the body's chemical messengers. They are transported by the blood to the various organs and tissues so that they can do their work to help with the regulation of growth, metabolism, mood, reproduction, and sexual function. However, as people age, hormone production slows down, which is why women experience menopause and men undergo andropause.

Rachael Clark, a spokesperson for Revitalize You MD, says, "It is an inevitable fact of life that as we age, our bodies slowly begin to deteriorate. The production of key components that keep us fit and healthy begin to decline, especially as we grow into our middle to later years. As the drop-offs get more drastic, the effects also become more and more apparent. Fortunately, advanced medical science can give us options so we don't need to just deal with it. HRT allows men to evade the discomfort and low performance levels associated with aging."

Meanwhile, the services provided by Revitalize You MD have been getting a lot of highly positive feedback. For instance, in a 5-star review for HRT for women, Kie T. said, "This is a great little health & wellness gem at the Roswell/ Alpharetta boarder! They do hormone replacement therapy for both men & women, medical weight loss, & IV vitamin therapy. Lovely office, great staff, & they even offer acoustic lipo!"

For women, HRT may be used to manage menopause symptoms. This is known as menopausal hormone therapy and is designed to replace hormones that are at a lower level. This treatment's primary purpose is to relieve menopausal symptoms, such as hot flashes, night sweats, mood swings, vaginal dryness, and reduced sex drive. There are two primary types of natural HRT, which are the traditional natural hormone replacement therapy and bioidentical hormone replacement therapy. Traditional natural HRT consists of the use of supplements or plants that have compounds that may relieve hormonal symptoms. Bioidentical HRT is derived from plants and these compounds are identical to the hormones produced by the body. These two are considered to be the safest forms of HRT.

For men, HRT is designed to help with the symptoms resulting from low testosterone levels. In men, androgens, which include testosterone, are the primary sex hormones that are responsible for the key male characteristics, reproductive functions, and sexual traits. However, as men reach the age of 30, testosterone production by the body starts to decline by 1 percent every year. Testosterone replacement therapy helps in restoring normal levels of testosterone and improves alertness, energy levels, motivation, and libido in men. Supplementation with testosterone is possible through patches, injections, gel, and pellets. However, men who are considering this therapy should consult with their doctor first.
