November 20, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

TSport Line, a business that focuses on delivering tires and other parts to Tesla Sport cars, is proud to have supported activities to raise awareness around breast cancer. They fitted the 'BreastCar', a pink Tesla, with new tires. The vehicle set off from the Beverly Hills Rodeo Concours d'Elegance and is now driving through the country, raising awareness and collecting funds to help in the fight against this disease.

"We want to make a public stand against this horrible disease that continues to kill so many people all over the world," says a representative from the sales department at TSport Line. "We were so happy to be approached for the BreastCar initiative and are excited to see how much awareness and funds it has already raised."

The business is the first company of its kind, focusing specifically on tuning, tires and accessories for Tesla. They also offer a number of Tesla cars for sale. The wheels they offer, which the BreastCar has been fitted with, have been engineered specifically to complement the functionality and performance of Tesla cars and they always fit perfectly. They also manufacture a carbon fiber spoiler wing and a carbon fiber sports package, designed specifically for the Tesla Model S. Additionally, they stock custom floor mats, steering wheels and door lighting. These were all fitted on the BreastCar as well.

"A huge thank you to Elie and Jonathan Pek from T Sportline who have helped prepare the BreastCar for its long journey across the country," says Dr Taras, who is driving the BreastCar. "The pink BreastCar is still fighting to 'FUNraise' for breast cancer and I know we'll keep on driving for a long time yet thanks to the new tires and other accessories. I will continue to update everybody with locations we are stopping at."

The company believes that the Tesla is the most superior vehicle on the planet and delivers a range of Tesla accessories and other products to further complement the inherent beauty and functionality of this vehicle. To be able to also enable the vehicle to play a part in beating a deadly disease is an added bonus.
