This report will provide a comprehensive overview of a local business? online marketing performance in a matter of minutes, including local listings, search engine rankings, on-site SEO and social media, and reviews. All that a business owner needs to do to get the free report is go the CWDSC website and check out their web page where they simply need to enter their business name to get the report in minutes.

And they would like to highlight the fact that their company has been on the top of the highly ranked keywords in Chicago for the past 12 years. Jack Lombardi, founder and CEO of CWDSC, says, ?Having succeeded where the competition didn?t, we hope you agree our search engine rankings on Google against other agencies prove CWDSC is the best in Chicagoland, and one of the top digital marketing companies in the US. Our digital marketing agency is here to ensure your website is optimized to rank high on Google and in the Google business listings.?

Their local SEO service allows businesses to connect with their potential customers that are within their vicinity. This is important because research has found that over 10 billion distinct searches are done every month in the US and over 40 percent of those searches are intended to look for businesses in their neighborhood or city or state. Local SEO can help businesses in taking advantage of this opportunity.

Jack Lombardi explains, ?Our SEO experts are knowledgeable about building the strategies that will drive your company to stand out from the competition and rank from the localized keywords. Customers are typically ready to make a purchase when they're browsing the Internet for business in their area. Have the upper hand by using our local SEO marketing strategies, which will help grow your business today.?

Approximately 50 percent of consumers who look for a business with their smartphone actually visit the business within a day. And around 34 percent of those who search using their tablet or computer will visit the business within a day. And around 71 percent of people who participated in a survey said they will first verify the business location before going there, which means that a local business much have everything their customers are looking for.

And as always, content is king when it comes to SEO. This includes the images, links, keywords, and videos that provide the information that the site visitor is looking for. It is important to remember that most site visitors are actually looking for a solution to their current problem, which means it makes sense to offer solutions for those problems. Their experts will ensure that the website is authoritative for their specific niche in business. The professional content that they can help provide will both please the site visitors and the search engines.

By getting more traffic and then having an effective conversion strategy, a local business would be able to beat competitors. Thus, being at the top of local searches provides a business with a significant edge over the competition.
