

Geelong Conveyancer Releases New Conveyancing Quote Calculator

November 02, 2022

November 02, 2022 -
VIC-based LEAD Conveyancing Geelong is pleased to announce the launch of its new free conveyancing cost calculator on its website. The free calculator allows people to quickly estimate the cost of buying or selling property. For more information about LEAD Conveyancing Geelong, visit their official website.

The free calculator is a convenient way of knowing what LEAD Conveyancing Geelong can offer to its clients. Once someone enters the required information, a detailed fee estimate will be sent to the indicated email address in less than a minute. It removes the hassle of going to one of the offices of the company to enquire about prices. It is a digital tool that is truly fit for a digital-driven company. Although efforts have been made to ensure all potential fees and disbursements have been included, LEAD Conveyancing Geelong stated that the calculator should only be used as a guide as some properties may need additional searches or require more extensive advice.

Aside from buying and selling categories, the new LEAD Conveyancing Geelong tool also has 2 more options: transferring and contract review. Same with buying and selling, the transferring option is available for existing houses, units, apartments, off-the-plan properties and land. The contract review option is a service of assessing section 32s and the contract of sales. The contract review option is best for those who will go to auctions. It serves as a safety precaution before bidding.

A Senior Lawyer at LEAD Conveyancing Geelong named Kristy Fletcher states that having a free calculator as one of the features on the website is vital for the advancement of the company. ?Having this kind of feature on the website is a great tool for attracting clients. It is like an upfront business proposal to potential clients. If they are satisfied with the numbers that they see on the free quote, they are more likely to be a new client. If not, it is totally fine. They can visit other conveyancing firm websites and then come back if they notice that LEAD has a more enticing offer. That is how this business goes. The goal of the calculator is to simply show what the company can offer. It is not a tool designed to compete with other companies.?

Trinh Thai, Legal Director and founder of LEAD Conveyancing Geelong, expressed her gratitude to the team by saying, ?It was just like yesterday when the team was brainstorming on how this would be possible. Through their impeccable efforts and sheer determination, LEAD Conveyancing Geelong has an online tool now that makes the life of clients easier. This tool symbolises the hard work of the Geelong team.?

LEAD Conveyancing Geelong is still developing and striving to serve its clients better. The company is doing things in the best way its members know, solely for its progress and the convenience of future clients. They still have more plans for the future.
