

Residential Cleaning Company in Estes Park CO Offers Tips on Keeping a Home Clean During the Holidays

November 07, 2022

Estes Park, Colorado - November 07, 2022 -

Way Finder Cleaning, a residential cleaning company in Estes Park, CO, has recently published an article that offers tips on keeping a home clean during the holidays. The holidays are a busy time for many people and thus, they are usually a time of stress, especially when trying to keep the home clean with the many events and parties being held during this particular period of time. Home cleaning can really be a challenge when there are guests coming and various activities being scheduled. The article shares some of the best hacks that homeowners can use to deal with the extra cleaning that is often required during the holidays.

The first tip is to develop a plan, specifying a cleaning schedule particularly for those areas of the home that will require the most attention. Each of these areas will have to be provided with a schedule when they will be cleaned. This plan will keep the homeowner from feeling overwhelmed by the various cleaning tasks and provides a way to monitor one's progress.

The second tip is to remember to delegate tasks or hire a professional home cleaner. It is a good idea to have a list of each cleaning task, such as dusting, mopping, vacuuming, laundry, and more. Each task will then be assigned to a particular family member, friend, or even a professional cleaning company. This will free-up some time for the homeowner to relax and enjoy the holidays.

The third tip is to establish a schedule. It may be a good idea to specify certain days of the week for cleaning tasks, such as dusting on Mondays, laundry on Tuesdays, vacuuming on Wednesdays, etc. If visitors and guests are expected, the cleaning tasks need to be done before they arrive.

The fourth tip is to put things away properly once the family is done using them. One can set aside a few minutes each day to check on those items that are no longer being used and keep them in storage until the next time they are needed. This will minimize clutter in the home.

Another great tip is to use everyday items for home decoration during the holidays. For instance, a regular vase or bowl can be used as the centerpiece for the dining room table. It can be filled with mini Christmas trees, ornaments, candles, and ribbons often use for the holidays. Christmas lights can be used to decorate the mantle and various parts of the home.

And finally, finding storage for the many items during the holidays may be a challenge, which is why it is important to be creative with storage solutions. For example, empty suitcases or boxes can be used to keep out-of-season clothes or holiday items; vertical spaces can be used for hanging decors on doors or walls, being creative in the use of furniture, and using multipurpose storage solutions, such as ottomans that double as storage boxes and more.
