Interested parties can view an exhaustive delivery area list on the company?s website.

The company has received hundreds of 5-star reviews published on its official Google business page. Satisfied customer Beth Bozzo commented on the company?s communication and attention to detail. She said, ?Our library rented the face 2 face rock climbing wall for our event. The staff did a great job communicating details ahead of and on the day of the event. Due to traffic they were a few minutes late but they were in contact with me regularly giving me updates on the time of arrival. Once here they set up quickly and did a fantastic job with the kids. They even stayed a little longer to make up for the few minutes they were late and to accommodate the rest of the line. I would highly recommend the company!?

Those interested in booking entertainment for an upcoming public event can visit the company website, follow its official social media pages, or contact the staff via email or phone for additional information.
