These reviews are published on the Party Rentals R Us Google Maps Business listing where the company holds an average review score of 4.9 out of a possible 5-stars. The company is fast approaching the 300-review mark as of the publication of this release.

Owner and president of Party Rentals R Us Andre Martins said, ?We are a company that takes the reviews that are left about our party and event rental services very seriously. Fortunately, the overwhelming percentage of our reviews speak very highly of our party rental services. Even the very few reviews that we receive that are less than perfect, we look at very closely to see how we can further improve our party and event rental services.?

Martins went on to discuss how they can satisfy such a large percentage of the customers that they serve; something that he says starts with putting customer service at the forefront of everything that they do. It also helps that they have a very large inventory of inflatables and other fun party items, according to the company website. The company owner mentioned that they are very proud to offer such quality inflatables as the impressively large Shark Combo Bounce House. It?s a massive 27ft x 16ft x 15ft combination inflatable that features a large bounce area, and a lengthy wet/dry slide, and is adorned with 3D sharks and other pop-up figures. For smaller parties, the company has more subtle inflatables such as the Looney Tunes Bounce House and the Disney Frozen Bounce House that each measure 15ft x 15ft and will provide hours of bouncing fun for toddlers and smaller children. He says that these are just a few of the latest and best-designed inflatable water slides, dry slides, obstacle courses, bounce houses, and bounce house combos that their customers get to choose from.

Martins also pointed out that they are adept when it comes to providing fun rental items for everything from the smallest birthdays to larger events such as family reunions, block parties, carnivals, and other big community events. Party Rentals R Us even takes this one step further by offering party and event support supplies such as interactive games, tents, concessions, and concession supplies. He added that all their party and event rental items can easily be reserved online 24/7 and they are happy to help put parties and events over the top in many Long Island locations including all of North and South Nassau and the Eastern and Western Suffolk areas.

Interested parties can book directly with the company online or contact the staff via phone or email for more information.
