The feedback from clients across QLD put the company and its members in a positive light. The reviews are dedicated to paralegals, lawyers and the company's founder, and most of them emphasised the company's responsiveness and thorough knowledge of property conveyancing.

The recent feedback from Trust Pilot came from a client named Terence L., saying, "I chose LEAD after my first conveyancer was not thorough when examining the contract of sale before rushing to sign off. The team at LEAD made sure the situation was prioritised and managed to exercise my rights as a buyer to protect my interests. Trinh was our representative throughout the whole process. As a first-home buyer, there were many unfamiliar elements in the process, but she would patiently educate me to fill the knowledge gap. I'm very pleased with each step, as Trinh was always ahead of every task. She is quick, concise, effective and trustworthy. Thanks to the team at LEAD for the smooth process. Special thanks to Trinh, John and Jesi. I would enlist their services again and highly recommend them."

In Google, a woman named Aneesa A. commended one of the paralegals of the company by stating, "Maria was my conveyancing, and she did a fantastic job helping me get through the process. She immediately responded to my calls and emails, answered all my questions in the kindest manner possible and made the entire process easy. I highly recommend her."

Senior Lawyer of LEAD Conveyancing Logan, Kristy Fletcher, was delighted about the new milestone of their company. She stated that the achievement inspired them to work harder and hone their knowledge more. She thanked the team for staying consistent despite their adversaries over the past years. She promised they would strive to improve to get more positive and motivating client reviews.
