services of a carpenter who will ensure the proper disassembly and reassembly of the furniture and equipment. All of these services are included in the overall umbrella price.

This Miami moving company can also handle international moving to more than 150 countries all over the world. Their international moving staff can come up with a relocation plan that is tailor-fitted to the specific needs and budget of their client. After the customer has approved a moving quotation, they will schedule the move and allocate a move manager who will serve as the client?s point of contact during the relocation process. Depending on the relocation needs of the client, the package containing the valuable possessions of the client will be transported by land, air, or sea.
