London, UK ? Weddings are a once-in-a-lifetime moment for many, and it?s only fitting that the bridal couple take home the best memories from the event in the form of photographs. In keeping with their mission to educate photographers, Pixcellence (www.pixcellence.co.uk) has just published a new blog post entitled 'Make Your Wedding Day an Event to Remember with a Wedding Photographer'.

'The focus of your wedding should only be you and your significant other,' states Clwyd Probert, one half of the Pixcellence photography team. 'No one else should take this day away from you two. Professional photographers are trained to emphasise and encapsulate the mood of every magical moment of your wedding, from the preparations and the wedding jitters to the exchange of vows and the first kiss. Imagine having a picture of your most important day together and having a piece of art at the same time.'

According to an article by Michelle Guilbeau from Examiner, 'The wedding is one of the most important days of your life and documenting the special day with many wedding photographs is vital. It is not always easy to have a photographer following you and your partner around all day, but the results can be precious and amazing. An excellent wedding photographer can create magic with the touch of a button'.

?A good wedding photographer can systematically include every single guest on your wedding day in all of the shots,? stated Probert, ?Sincere moments that may seem difficult to even capture are also not a problem for these specialists. In addition, you?ll have enough photos to send to your relatives and friends, instead of relying on your inexperienced friend?s digital camera.?

Pixcellence offers coaching courses to help photographers of all levels improve their photographic talents teaching photographic techniques and educating the public about cross-cultural wedding customs.
