November 19, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mr. Chem Dry is thrilled to announce that Gary Morann, one of their senior technicians, has successfully completed the Chem Dry Stone, Tile & Grout Training Course, earning the right to be a stone, tile & grout cleaning specialist and adding proficiency to the Mr. Chem Dry team.

To reach this achievement level Mr. Morann has gone through extensive training regarding cleaning chemistry and theory, said Daryl Olsen, the owner of Mr. Chem Dry. He is also knowledgeable in all carpet cleaning, odor decontamination, upholstery fiber identification and cleaning, and in operation of all equipment.

One of the easiest ways to enhance the basic features of a home is to add ceramic or stone tile to kitchens, bathrooms, entryways and even outdoors. It's hard to go wrong with tile. Tile is durable, long wearing, and looks great. But tile and stone are not immune to dirt and grime build up in the porous surfaces of your stone, tile & grout flooring, turning them into a breeding ground for bacteria. While regular sweeping and mopping are helpful at keeping excessive buildup at bay, those don't deliver a deep cleaning.

Chem Dry's professional tile and stone cleaning reduces the dirt and bacteria that can spread germs, so your surfaces and your home will sparkle and be safer for your family and pets.

“Completing the tile & grout cleaning course is a great level of achievement for a Chem Dry operator to reach,” said Gary Atwell, director of training for Mr. Chem Dry. “It takes a lot of time, hard work and dedication all of which our technicians demonstrate.”

“Mr. Morann has been with the company for 3 years,” Olsen said. “He is very knowledgeable, hard working and is a benefit to all he serves.”

Chem Dry is the world's largest carpet and upholstery cleaning company with 4,000 franchises in 50 countries, cleaning more than a billion square feet of carpet and tile every year, leaving homes cleaner and healthier.

Chem Dry uses state of the art equipment, non toxic environmentally safe supplies and well trained service technicians. Each Chem Dry location is independently owned and operated and not all services are offered at every location. That's why Mr. Chem Dry is staying ahead of the game and making sure all their technicians are certified in every service that Chem Dry offers to bring them home locally to their customers.
