

Car Seats For Toddlers Launches Brand New Website

November 24, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Car Seats for Toddlers, an online business that sells car seats, is proud to announce that they have launched their own website. Having previously only conducted sales through the Amazon selling platform, they feel that this is a huge step in the direction of becoming an even more established business. The new website also enables customers to leave product reviews directly on the site, rather than having to go through Amazon.

"We absolutely love our new website," says Laine Esperanzate from Car Seats for Toddlers. "We felt it was time to set ourselves apart as an independent business and our new website has really made that possible. We will continue to work in association with Amazon to give our customers the safest and highest quality shopping experience, but we also want to make sure it is easier for people to find the products and information they are actually looking for."

As can be seen on the store's new website, there are different categories of car seats to focus on. These include infant, toddler, and all in one. Additionally, the site now enables consumers to search through their favorite brands of car seats too. Furthermore, car seat accessories are also included and there is an easy link to any products that are on special offer.

"The problem with Amazon is that it can be very difficult to see all the other products on offer unless someone knows the store's name," adds Laine Esperanzate. "And even then, it can be hard to see what kind of special offers are on. Hence, while we will continue to work with Amazon for the security of our customers, we felt a need to have a website with far greater clarity at the same time. We hope our customers agree that we have succeeded in that."

The products marketed and sold by Car Seats for Toddlers have been very well received since they first started selling them. Some customers have already mentioned that they are happy to see the company have its own website, which can be found at <http://carseatsfortoddlers.org/>. They felt that it creates a more professional and trustworthy image.
