SJ Winn Construction is a Winstead, CT-based roofing & gutter repair and installation specialist that strives to satisfy every homeowner that they provide services for in Torrington and their West Hartford Connecticut service area. The company does this by providing some of the most well-rounded roofing services that can be found in their area.

Recently, a 5-star review was received on this roofer?s Google My Business listing, which spoke highly of the well-rounded way that this contractor fulfills their roof repair projects. In that glowing review just mentioned, Alex Jennison stated, ?10 months ago, SJ Winn Construction did a very neat and efficient job when it came to my new roof and siding project. They were easy to get a hold of, returned calls promptly, and stuck to all the timelines that were discussed in the original consultation and contract. If you need home improvement work with a related insurance claim done, I strongly recommend SJ Winn Construction!?

Scott Winn, the company owner, says, ?I can?t say how appreciative I am that Mr. Jennison took the time to leave us a 5-star review after we completed his whole roof replacement project and put on new siding for him. I feel this shows that he was so satisfied with the work that we did for him, that he needed to reward us in some way. In my eyes, there is no better way to do that than by leaving a highly positive review on our services that others can see.?

He went on to talk more about the total way that they like to serve their customers. It all starts with a timely response to inquiries about their roofing and other work. That is usually followed up by a roof inspection that is done free of charge and most likely will include photos of the damaged area on a roof so the customer can better relate to the scope of their repair. Once the results of that roof inspection have been gone over with the customer, they will then provide a customer with a detailed and accurate repair estimate. When a customer agrees to get the repair done, the company owner says that the customer can then choose between the many high-quality roofing products that they offer. Products are made more affordable by SJ Winn Construction?s several established connections with the Hartford area?s leading roofing suppliers.

The company owner says that once the requested roofing supplies arrive for a job, they don?t stay on the ground very long as their skilled roofing crews pride themselves on doing repairs promptly to lessen a customer?s stress and worry. He added that they always make sure they stand fully behind all the roofing and other work they do by honoring all manufacturer?s warranties and correcting any rare labor mistakes that their experienced techs may make.

In yet another glowing SJ Winn Construction customer review, Michelle Huntley proclaimed, ?I used SJ Winn for my full roof replacement, and I would never use anyone else. I strongly recommend them. They were on time every day and did such a great job. The price for their quality of work cannot be beaten! We are definitely using them again for our shed roof replacement as well. Thank you, guys, so much, you are much appreciated!? Megan Toner?s 5-star review talked about SJ Winn Construction?s excellent roof storm damage response by stating, ?Scott and his team helped when three trees fell on our home. His team was there the day we called to make sure the roof was covered over immediately to avoid any further damage. Scott helped us through the process with the insurance company and got the job completed promptly. I would recommend using SJ Winn Construction!?
