The waste disposal industry is heavily regulated at the local and Federal level and is why it is important to know what items cannot be disposed of in a dumpster. While rules can vary for some materials, there are prohibited items that cannot be thrown in a dumpster anywhere. This typically includes items such as tires, chemicals, car batteries, railroad ties and any other materials that are toxic, pose a significant safety hazard or could damage the container. For the most up to date information about prohibited materials that cannot go in the dumpsters, those interested should contact the company?s customer support to inquire.

Drum?s Discount Dumpsters? reputation with their customers appear to be good according to the company?s online reviews. The company, at the time of this writing, currently has 17 reviews from previous customers on their Google Business Page, all with an impressive rating of five stars. It should be noted that five stars is the highest rating a business can receive on their Google Business Page.

Cassondra Drum, company co-owner, had this to say, ?Customer feedback is vital to us and we don?t take it lightly. It helps us to know we are maintaining our high standard of customer satisfaction. We especially appreciate our customers that take the time out to let us know about their experience with our company from their initial contact and throughout the rental process.?
