Many homes and office buildings have old windows that are no longer effective in their function or form. The windows might not have been installed correctly. Window gaps and cracks allow moisture and air to enter the home, resulting in higher energy bills.

The team also tests the air and water infiltration to ensure the new windows are properly sealed and will not allow any moisture or draft- to enter the home.

The windows that NuWave Construction installs are top-of-the-line and designed to stand the test of time. All window frames are measured and cut to perfection before being installed. NuWave Construction offers a variety of finishes, such as painting or staining, to make the new windows match the look of the property.
