November 29, 2022 -

Bluffton, SC - Off-Island Dental Care is ready to welcome back its patients who have avoided dental care throughout the majority of the COVID-19 pandemic. People are more comfortable returning to their dental routines. As a result, the volume of patients seeing their dentists is spiking again. Off-Island Dental says they are always ready to provide the best dental care for the Bluffton community.

Off-Island Dental offers professional Teeth Cleaning services that involve the removal of dental plaque. The Bluffton-based dental clinic underlined that teeth cleaning plays a more significant role than just cleanliness in sustaining oral health.

Dentists always start the teeth cleaning process with a comprehensive oral examination to identify the present condition of the mouth. Next, the dentist thoroughly examines the patient's teeth and gums for signs of dental decay, gum disease, and other health issues. After a thorough examination, the patient is advised on the most suitable dental therapy for their case. Dental professionals recommend teeth cleaning twice yearly or every six months for proper dental hygiene.

"Routine teeth cleaning can reduce the likelihood of getting unpleasant oral conditions. To take advantage of these advantages, make a dental cleaning appointment with Dr. Langehans of Off-Island Dental."

Off-Island Dental offers patients cutting-edge technology, a warm environment, and a staff of caring professionals who are always willing to help. The Bluffton SC Dental Clinic has given dependable services to the community thanks to their years of experience.

Besides teeth cleaning, Off-Island Dental also offers additional general dental services. They offer Dental Fillings, Composite Fillings, TMJ Therapy, and Whitening of Teeth. Additionally, the clinic offers cosmetic dentistry techniques such as microabrasion, veneers, and removable clear braces. In addition, they provide Specialized Dentistry, which includes Dental Implants, Dental Crowns, Dental Bridges, Root Canal Therapy, Oral Surgery, Oral Hygiene, and Gum Disease Therapy.

"We offer a customized approach for each patient, helping design the optimal treatment strategy based on our client's goals and interests," they said.

Off-Island Dental Care offers an appointment scheduling system that is more straightforward. Through their website, https://www.offislanddental.com/, patients can quickly contact them.
