November 30, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

New South Wales based moving company Reliable Sydney Removalists is pleased to announce the results of a recent expansion: the company now has eight trucks on the road serving the Blacktown and Western Sydney area. This expansion will better enable Reliable Sydney Removalists to provide high quality moving services to the residents of Blacktown and the surrounding areas.

Nathan McLean, a representative for Reliable Sydney Removalists, says, "The Covid-19 pandemic was no doubt a great obstacle for everyone here, and it had put a damper on the housing markets. With the worst of the pandemic having passed, however, the housing market in Western Sydney has really opened up, and we find that people are looking into buying new real estate and moving houses again. To support the new influx of customers and ensure that we are able to help the good people of Blacktown and the surrounding areas as best as we can, Reliable Sydney Removalists has expanded our operations."

He continues, "We now have eight trucks on the road serving just the Blacktown and Western Sydney area. This means that we are able to cater to all of our new customers and ensure that their moves go as smoothly as possible. We are very happy about the expansion and look forward to serving the residents of Sydney."

Through the entire process, they maintained a professional and friendly communication. Everything arrived in perfect condition because all was well-packed. The way they pack and protect your belongings shows how much they care. They are also extremely affordable. Their removal service is highly recommended to anyone looking for the right movers!?"

In another review, Kenneth E. says, "The two moving guys who came this morning were fantastic! I had previously used another company to move, which cost a fortune due to the fact they were disorganised. Reliable Sydney Removalists were efficient, quick, careful, polite and professional. No damage was done to any of my belongings. I could not fault them. On top of this, I paid about a third of what I previously paid to the other company that completely ripped me off. I would recommend Reliable Sydney Removalists to everyone! Great company!! Great team!?"
