

Dandenong Conveyancing Firm Expands Working Hours

December 02, 2022

December 02, 2022 -
LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong, a south-east VIC-based conveyancing firm across the Melbourne suburb, announced that it extended its operating hours until the weekend. The reason behind the company?s working hours extension is the increased number of conveyancing clients not just in Melbourne, but in the whole of Victoria as well. For more information about LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong, visit their official website.

Before the inception of the extension, LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong?s original plan was to add two more hours to their daily operations, making their operating hours 8 am to 10 pm. But instead of doing the procedure, each firm member agreed to work on weekends. Their reason behind the decision is to have enough rest still while dealing with many transactions. Working for a short time on Saturdays and Sundays is better than tiring themselves on weekdays, said the LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong team.

Legal Director and Founder of LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong, Trinh Thai, hoped their plan would enable them to meet the client's expectations. "The team and I believe our idea will help us cope with the unexpected change in property conveyancing demand in Victoria. We see it as a challenge that we need to face more than a burden that we must avoid. In every challenge, a human grows, and this unforeseen event is a perfect opportunity to maximise our potential. Dealing with more transactions means utilising all the things we know in conveyancing, and we will use them well to improve our clients' lives."

LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong's operating hours are 8 am to 8 pm on weekdays and 10 am to 2 pm on weekends, with 24-hour online customer service working hours. The extension is equivalent to the almost one-day regular operation of the firm. Technically, they currently operate six days a week, a better plan rather than adding two hours per day.

Conveyancing is a systematic procedure of legally transferring real estate property ownership from one person to another. From the surface, the process seems easy to deal with stock knowledge. Still, understanding property law and how conveyancing works in every continent of Australia is necessary to avoid getting into legal trouble. Hiring a conveyancing solicitor is always highly recommended to ensure a smooth transaction from start to finish.

LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong is a fully licensed conveyancing firm that houses many registered conveyancing solicitors around Australia. They are a well-established company that has operated for a decent amount of years. Their conveyancing services include buyers? conveyancing, sellers? conveyancing, transfer conveyancing, contract drafting and contract review. Their services are being offered for a fixed price.

LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong office is strategically located at Suite 100, 7, 225 Lonsdale St, Dandenong VIC 3175, Australia, just a short walk from Kmart Dandenong and Dandenong Market. They have a free online conveyancing fee calculator that shows the detailed breakdown of the costs of each of their conveyancing services.
