Brooklyn car accident attorney Samantha Kucher (https://www.rrklawgroup.com/brooklyn-car-accident-lawyer/) releases a new article that discusses the common causes of car accidents in New York. The lawyer points out that no one is ready for a crash in a car. Long-term injuries from car accidents can severely impact a person's quality of life.

?You may have been transported to an emergency room and faced medical intervention to deal with your injuries. The days and weeks have slipped by, and you finally realized that while you have been focused on your healing, doctor?s visits, and medical care, you have lost critical time away from work, and bills are piling up,? says the Brooklyn car accident attorney.

The lawyer explains that car accidents can create psychological and physical traumas and leave victims financially devastated. In some cases, the victims may end up paying more than what they get from the insurance company. This is why a car accident lawyer is important as soon as the victim is able to seek compensation for their injuries.

Attorney Samantha Kucher mentions that it is not too late for a victim to seek a personal injury lawyer unless the statute of limitations has run out. The statute of limitations to file a lawsuit after a car accident is three years. In the event of a fatality, the surviving family may file a lawsuit for wrongful death.

In the article, attorney Kucher claims that New York is a state with no-fault insurance laws. Some aspects of these laws could be limited sometimes. If the accident was partially caused by another driver, they may also be held accountable for the injuries of the victim.

According to the personal injury lawyer, ?While there are a variety of causes for car accidents, there are some car collisions that are more common in the city of New York. New York City street is a busy place which results in a lot of car and motorcycle collisions. Driver distraction or inattention, drunk driving or drug-impaired driving, reckless car driving, and many others are just some of the most common causes of car accidents in New York.?

Lastly, the lawyer reminds victims that it is important to get the advice of an experienced personal accident lawyer. An experienced lawyer may be able to guide victims in seeking compensation for their injuries. A lawyer can also help the victim understand their legal rights.
