Beverly, MA-based Cicoria Tree and Crane Service, Inc. has established a reputation for going above and beyond with the many different types of tree services that it offers. This includes doing everything from crane-assisted large tree removal to expertly trimming the most delicate smaller trees. The company has also become well-known for its prompt and thorough emergency tree work.

Mark Cicoria, Cicoria Tree Service?s owner, says, ?It?s that time of year again in New England. A time when strong winds and heavy rains can still be found in the area on warmer days and on colder days many inches of snow can quickly start to accumulate. When these types of weather events occur, they can wreak havoc on the trees in your yard. This includes bringing down larger branches and entire trees. Our crews are standing by 24/7 to help in the event you have a tree or large branch come down on your home or in another area where they need to be removed immediately.?

Cicoria went on to say that they can respond so quickly to requests for storm-related tree cleanup because they always have a crew on standby 24 hours a day 365 days a year. That crew will keep their truck gassed up and ready to go on a moment?s notice and that vehicle will be fully stocked with the latest tree removal gear. Cranes and trucks with lift buckets are always available too if a tree removal situation calls for them. He mentioned that of course they will not dispatch their emergency service crews until weather permits, but once that happens, they will arrive at a customer?s house as quickly as possible. Once the experienced emergency Cicoria Tree and Crane Service crew arrives they will get right to work assessing the situation and how best to resolve it. After presenting the customer with an accurate and fair estimate for the work, they will then get to doing any emergency tree tasks such as removing trees and branches that have fallen on a home, that have come down on fences or other structures, and they can even coordinate with the local power company if a tree has fallen on a power line.

The company owner pointed out as with all their tree services when they are doing emergency tree work safety is always kept at the forefront of everything that their crews do. The seasoned, arborist-led crews at this company rarely if ever run into an emergency tree situation that they do not have the knowledge or equipment to handle. They also will not leave a job site unless all the tree debris from the task has been completely cleaned up. He even stated that they are willing to work with a home or business owner if they intend to place a claim with their insurance company to cover the company?s tree or limb removal services.

Those that have used Cicoria?s emergency tree services often express in reviews how thankful they are for the company?s prompt and efficient work. Jennifer Hogan proclaimed, ?If I could give them 10 stars, I would. Cicoria came to take a tree down this week after half of it fell in the last storm and missed our house by about a foot. It was clear that the rest of the tree was dead and needed to come down immediately before it fell and hit the house. Another local company had quoted us double the price and a month?s wait. Cicoria came out to give a quote on Monday and the tree was down by Tuesday afternoon. Considering the bad wind that we are already having, we appreciated the quick response from them so much! Highly recommend!? Angelika MacClellan stated, ?Cicoria Tree did an excellent job removing a large oak and a previous trunk that had fallen during a storm that was in a very tight and challenging space. The men were kind, courteous, on time, and left my property cleaner than they found it. Highly recommended. I would definitely use their services again.?
