December 03, 2015 -
Perfectly Vivid, a business in Coronado, CA, has recently launched their new tactical flashlight. This has been designed for survivalists and other people who spend a lot of time in the outdoors. However, it is equally suitable for regular domestic users, particularly now that the nights are getting longer. Further details are available through the company's website on http://perfectlyvivid.com/.

"Our tactical flashlight is designed to keep people safe, particularly during the longer nights," says Dr. Christopher Vogelmann from Perfectly Vivid. "It also helps them to be prepared for emergencies. While our flashlight is already proving very popular with people who spend a lot of time in the outdoors, it works equally well in regular homes. Having it in a tactical place means that light is available instantly during a power outage, for instance."

Being a tactical flashlight, the product can also be used for self-defense. Simply switching the light on in a dark alley is often enough to scare away an assailant. And, in the worst case scenario, it can actually be used as a weapon. This is something that interests survivalists and hunters in particular, who often require their tools to be multi-functional.

The company also encourages everybody to give them a Like on Facebook through https://www.facebook.com/perfectlyvivid/?fref=ts. This is an opportunity for them to join in on the conversation and to share their thoughts on the flashlight, or to show people how they are using theirs. Additionally, it will keep them up to date with future product developments, promotions, sales and more.

Since its original launch, the product has already received numerous positive reviews, as can be seen on http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B00RLTUOBI. "This flashlight is super bright," says one happy shopper. "To be honest, I was very surprised that this little guy could produce so much light and have such a long range. The flashlight is very well made and sturdy and can probably take a good beating without breaking. The product came with an awesome carrying case which I really liked. This really is a top quality flashlight and I definitely recommend it."
