

New York City Crane Accident Lawyer Keetick L. Sanchez Explains Crane Accidents in New York

December 14, 2022

JACKSON HEIGHTS, NY - December 14, 2022 -
New York City crane accident lawyer Keetick L. Sanchez (https://accidentlawyer-queens.com/construction-accident-attorney/new-york-city-crane-accident-lawyer/) releases a new article explaining the common causes of New York City crane accidents. Recent reports show that there has been a significant increase in the number of crane accidents in New York City.

?Crane accidents are a serious concern in New York City,? said the New York City crane accident lawyer. ?Construction workers and pedestrians alike are at risk of being injured or killed in these accidents. Our firm is dedicated to holding negligent parties accountable for the harm they have caused.?

The lawyer adds that mechanical failure is another common cause of crane accidents. In order to prevent heavy equipment such as cranes from causing accidents, they must be regularly inspected and maintained to prevent failures. Aside from mechanical failure, bad weather is also a leading cause of crane accidents. Strong winds can topple cranes, and heavy rain can make it difficult for operators to see what they're doing.

Attorney Keetick L. Sanchez says that cranes are usually subject to stringent operating procedures and weight limits. However, when construction contractors, supervisors, and owners ignore safety limits and operating procedures, it can mean serious injury or even death for those working on the site or in the vicinity.

In the article, the lawyer adds, ?If you have been injured in a crane accident, you may be entitled to workers? compensation benefits. While workers? compensation has many advantages, a workers? compensation claim requires that you waive the right to file a lawsuit against your employer. But even if you choose to accept a workers? compensation settlement, that doesn?t mean that you can?t hold another party accountable and file a personal injury lawsuit against a third party.?

Lastly, the New York City crane accident lawyer explains that if someone is a victim of a crane accident, they should seek the help of an experienced accident lawyer right away. Having a skilled lawyer may be able to help the victim receive the compensation they deserve.
