December 21, 2022 -

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania ? A company that has been offering tree care services in Philadelphia and its suburbs except West Chester, Philadelphia Tree Service Experts, earlier today announced that it will start offering tree services in the suburb beginning tomorrow.

?For the past 20 years,? said the CEO, ?Philadelphia Tree Service Experts has been offering tree care services in Philadelphia and its suburbs, including Phoenixville, Kennett Square, Media, Lambertville, Ambler, Ardmore, Haddonfield, and Collingswood but leaving West Chester out. The good news today to the homeowners in West Chester is that the company has decided to introduce its services to the suburb beginning tomorrow.?

The CEO revealed that the main reason behind Philadelphia Tree Service Experts leaving West Chester out is because tree farming is not very common in the suburb.

?The main reason why Philadelphia Tree Service Experts has been ignoring West Chester for years is that there are countable tree owners in the suburb,? said the CEO during the announcement. ?The company has, however, been receiving tree care requests from homeowners in West Chester, most of whom had known Philadelphia Tree Service Experts from friends in the suburbs that the company had been operating in. Some complained about losing their trees after using fake tree care companies to service their trees. This pushed the company to forget that there are few tree owners in West Chester and run to their rescue, hence the decision to expand the services to the suburb.?

The CEO then confirmed that Philadelphia Tree Service Experts was well prepared to take its services to West Chester.

?Philadelphia Tree Service Experts makes its operations easy by sending a team to all the suburbs it works in,? said the CEO. ?The case with West Chester will not be any different as a team was sent to the suburb earlier yesterday. Creating the new team, called for the company to recruit more employees. This the company did gladly, and it managed to get highly skilled employees hence the West Chester trees will be in safe hands. What more has the team done in preparation for West Chester Company?s grand entry? Philadelphia Tree Service Experts recently acquired more tools and types of equipment. This was to erase the inconveniences caused by inadequate tools and equipment like late delivery of services.?

The CEO also hinted at the company?s plans to take its services further.

?Philadelphia Tree Service Experts team likes seeing healthy trees everywhere they go,? said the CEO. ?It is the company?s wish to serve the whole Pennsylvania state. When the company makes any expansion in its location limits, it will be shared in the Philadelphia Tree Service Experts media room.?

The CEO lastly urged homeowners in Philadelphia and the entire neighborhood to make their bookings with Philadelphia Tree Service Experts.

?The homeowners in West Chester should make their bookings with Philadelphia Tree Service Experts and give the company a chance to show them what they have been missing,? said the CEO. ?On the other hand, homeowners in Philadelphia and the other suburbs should continue trusting Philadelphia Tree Service Experts with their trees as they have done for the last 2 decades. The company promises to continue offering the same high-quality services.?
