Citrus Heights, California ? To make the trees well prepared for spring, Citrus Heights Tree Service Experts earlier today declared December a tree care month.

"When trees enter spring with a lot of winter stress," said the CEO, "the chances of them surviving through the season are low. Therefore, to prepare them for spring, the trees should be well taken care of in the winter. For this reason, Citrus Heights Tree Service Experts has declared the whole of December a tree improvement month."

The CEO noted that the company aims to improve 300 trees by the end of December.

"December is almost ending but Citrus Heights Tree Service Experts aims to improve 3,000 trees in December," said the CEO. ?That means that every day Citrus Heights Tree Service Experts should fix not less than 30 trees.?
