Sydney, New South Wales - December 26, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Clean Group, a Sydney NSW-based commercial cleaning service provider, is also located there. It provides commercial and residential cleaning services 24 hours a day. It is also offering an emergency commercial cleaning service, including cleaning and disinfection. They offer it to both residential and commercial properties in Sydney and Melbourne. Since its inception, the company has been a leading provider of commercial disinfection services and cleaning services for the past 20 years. This gives the company a lot of experience in the commercial cleaning sector.

This 24/7 hr disinfection service will be a great idea due to the rising demand for commercial cleaning. This service has been launched in Sydney NSW, and Melbourne VIC. All services will be available for emergency COVID cleaning or disinfection 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Clean Group founder and owner, Mike Clean, can provide more information or book an appointment.

Clean Group has been a trusted provider in commercial cleaning services

Its unique and extraordinary work in Sydney during this pandemic brought the company into the spotlight and it was soon a household name throughout the city. This company has highly qualified staff as well as the most recent technology for all cleaning purposes. This company is well-known for its reasonable pricing. It is also one of the first providers of Electrostatic Disinfection Services for commercial properties throughout the city.

Clean Group provides cleaning services for commercial properties, such as offices, malls and gyms, and childcare centers. Clean Group also provides COVID cleaning certifications to indicate that certain locations have been disinfected according to Safe Work Australia guidelines and are free from virus infections. The certification helps businesses get approval from the authorities immediately to reopen their business in Melbourne or Sydney.

Electrostatic disinfection technique for 100% virus removal

Clean Group's cleaners use the latest Electrostatic Disinfection tools, along with TGA-certified chemicals (safe for people), to eradicate any type of virus or variant. It is quick and extremely efficient and can be used to disinfect large buildings such as factories, offices, buildings, and strata.

Now available 24/7 for COVID cleaning in Sydney & Melbourne

Clean Group offers 24/7 COVID cleaning solutions for businesses in many industries. The company's services are used by childcare centers, schools, and buildings as well as strata buildings, warehouses, and medical centers. To ensure the best results, the company also offers COVID cleaning and commercial vehicles like vans, trucks, delivery trucks, or ambulances. Clean Group has been the most reliable cleaning company in Sydney for many years. This venture is already trusted by more than 100 property owners/managers for their regular cleaning needs. This is how customers can reap the benefits of the company's affordable & certified 24/7 COVID cleaners throughout Sydney.

Professional cleaning services offered by Clean Group are different from regular cleaning. Clean Group staff follow the SWA standards to deep clean any premises listed on Clean Group's website.

Clean Group stands out from other COVID-cleaning companies in these things

Clean Group's unique combination of quality and experience makes it stand out from other companies. This is due to the fact that they have a strong commitment to quality, many years of experience, a highly skilled staff, certified disinfected cleaners, and a long list of other qualities. The company also uses only eco-friendly cleaners. It is TGA-approved and certified safe for use. The cleaners used all safety precautions during cleaning to ensure that all clients were safe. Every member of staff is examined for fever and body temperature. Additionally, the company provides the best safety equipment, including gloves, PPE kits, and masks.

This organization's best feature is that it is accessible 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Customers can request services anytime, anywhere. They can provide quick service delivery within hours.
