November 25, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Virginia Beach, Virginia based company Blessings Plumbing, seen as a leader in implementing green technology for the plumbing industry in Virginia Beach for many years, has been educating, and continues to educate, customers on water conservation solutions. "We feel that education goes a long way," states company owner Craig Blessings.

The company provides advice to customers regarding using shower heads and faucets with water saving aerators or high efficiency fixtures, as well as replacing toilets with more water efficient models, using water conserving landscape irrigation, and installing tankless water heaters that save both on water and energy costs. They help customers to better understand solar water heating systems and their benefits as well.

"We understand that water is one of our most valuable resources and we must take measures to conserve it," states Blessings. He states that those interested in learning more about conserving water can visit <http://blessingsplumbing.com/services/water-heaters/>.

Blessings Plumbing is considered one of the first companies in the Virginia Beach area to install on-demand water heaters that help consumers to save enormous amounts of energy and water while taking up a small amount of space. Rather than constantly heating a large tank full of water, an on-demand heater instantly heats only the water that is being used at the moment when it is needed. On-demand water heaters also eliminate the possibility of running out of hot water. Many consumers are learning the benefits of heating only smaller amounts of water at a time, as opposed to having tens of gallons of water sitting in a tank getting cold and needing to be reheated prior to use.

In addition, the company is currently experimenting with hybrid or heat pump water heaters that can save as much as 66% on water heating bills. By using the same technology as a home heat pump the Hybrid heat pump takes the surrounding heat in the air and puts it into the water.

"Blessings Plumbing is always researching new products and techniques to ensure a safe environment for our families and children," states Blessings. More about the company can be seen on their official website at <http://blessingsplumbing.com>.
