January 12, 2023

Chicago, Illinois - January 12, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Chicago Website Design SEO Company CEO Jack Lombardi is welcoming Oak Brook entrepreneurs to understand how digital marketing can help them attract highly targeted customers and transform their businesses for the long term.

Split across DuPage County and Cook County, Chicago suburb Oak Brook is home to the headquarters of several recognizable American brands such as Ace Hardware and Lion's Club International, and until recently, was also the former corporate home of McDonald's. According to the latest census data, the area has over 1250 employers competing to provide a wide range of services to its residents the latter of whom have a median household income of over $140,000, over twice the national average. Near West Side's population is also steadily increasing, an 8% rise from the 2010 census to the 2020 census, setting it up to be a prime market for aspiring entrepreneurs to get started.

On its LinkedIn profile, CWDSC explains the unique advantages that it offers to business owners by saying, ?We are an experienced search engine marketing firm dedicated to making businesses more visible and profitable. We tackle search engine marketing head-on, researching and implementing the latest tools and techniques in the industry to catapult our clients past their competition online and position them in front of the prospects who are looking for the services or products our clients provide. Fueled by our team of search engine marketing experts, our clients get a refreshing customer service experience, respectable rankings, and online branding all leading to conversion and revenue. Save these directions from Oak Brook to our office and meet us for a comprehensive consultation regarding your digital marketing needs.?

CWDSC can help contractors, as well as professionals, create compelling websites with laser-focused SEO-optimized content. It has brought results for service providers in all kinds of industries including accountants, appliance repair services, basement waterproofing contractors, chiropractors, deck contractors, demolition contractors, dentists, DJ services, eCommerce companies, electrical contractors, excavation contractors, fencing contractors, garage door repair services, hardwood floor contractors, home builders, home remodeling contractors, HVAC contractors, kitchen and bath contractors, landscaping contractors, lawyers and law services, medical services providers, nightclubs, orthodontists, photographers, plastic surgeons, plumbing contractors, pool contractors, realtors, roofing contractors, veterinary offices, windows and doors contractors, and many more.

Many of the company's clients have left gushing testimonials on Jack and his team's expertise. A review from Lindsay B says, ?Jack Lombardi is the man. After struggling to understand and keep up with the world of search engine optimization for my local business I started to scour the internet in desperation. Chicago Website Design immediately caught my attention and it has been a blessing since. The best thing about this company has been the accessibility to Jack, the CEO. He is extremely thorough and the best in the business. He is caring and compassionate and helped me understand what he was doing on a simple and down-to-earth level. In addition to SEO, Jack has been one hell of a business consultant and has helped me in areas that I wasn't even considering when I decided to work with him. His cost of doing business is more than fair for the results that we have gotten, and I have recommended him to anybody I know who is looking to boost their business to the next level. Thank you, Sir!?
