Chicago, Illinois - January 12, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Chicago Website Design SEO Company River North web design and SEO services are now available for businesses, including those in neighboring areas. The River North neighborhood is a dynamic and technology-driven community and is also known as the River North Gallery District as it is home to the biggest concentration of art galleries in the US outside of Manhattan. The area has undergone significant changes in 1990 to 2012, such as the development of high-rise buildings, restaurants, and nightclubs. As such, the area has become one of the leading neighborhoods for nightlife, particularly on and around Hubbard Street. Aside from the hundreds of art galleries, the neighborhood has various bars, restaurants, entertainment venues, and dance clubs.

Jack Lombardi, founder and CEO of CWDSC, says, "For those who are you looking for the best SEO River North has to offer, we are a professional company ready to help you market your business through expert SEO services. We will also help you put your business where your customers are. Our marketing services work together with high-quality SEO to attract the right traffic. This is traffic made up of people who are looking for your products and services. This will ultimately increase your conversion rates and sales. For those who require directions from River North to our office, you can check out Google Maps."

Aside from their web design services, a vital service provided by CWDSC is local SEO services, which is search engine optimization for small businesses that allows them to connect with their target audience that are near their store or establishment and are searching online for products and services that the business can provide. Targeting potential local customers is a smart way of marketing for small businesses because studies have found that people who are actively searching for local businesses or establishments that can provide a solution for their specific problems through their products or services are frequently ready to buy within that particular day. Of the 10 billion distinct queries that are being made by people in the US every month, about 40 percent of them are local searches. And around 50 percent of those who use their smartphones for searching are likely to visit a business establishment, while approximately 34 percent of those who use their tablets are likely to go to a business store or establishment within the day.

With regards to their web design services, they want to point out that they always design such websites with SEO as a forethought, instead of just an afterthought. This is in contrast to the average web designer, who has none or very little knowledge about search engine optimization. They will simply create a website that looks attractive and appears trendy. Unfortunately, such attractiveness will just be wasted if the site has very few visitors, which is likely to be case when the proper SEO for the site has not been considered. At CWDSC, not only will they ensure that the site will have a high conversion rate but also that it will rank high on Google. This is vital because most online searchers will usually visit only those web pages of websites that are on the top of the list of the search engine results pages. Ranking high on Google and other search engines require the appropriate and the most up-to-date knowledge about search engine optimization and Google best practices.

Launched in 2008 by Jack Lombardi, CWDSC is a premier search engine optimization and web design company in Chicago and provides its services to other key cities in the country. It also has branches in a various other cities and towns. The company's SEO services are provided by full-time SEO professionals, who have a combined experience of 25+ years.
