

Geelong Conveyancer Marks 5th Year in the Conveyancing Industry

January 08, 2023

January 08, 2023 -
LEAD Conveyancing Geelong, a south-east VIC-based property conveyancing company, celebrated its 5th year with an ambition to serve more clients in the future. The company serviced over a thousand citizens across various states in Australia during its course in the conveyancing industry. For more information about LEAD Conveyancing Geelong, visit their official website.

Speaking before her colleagues, LEAD Conveyancing Geelong Legal Director and Solicitor Trinh Thai touched on the company?s achievements. She suggested adding more legal services to work with more clients. This plan is possible as the company has knowledgeable and experienced staff, and its Solicitor would not find adjusting to additional conveyancing services difficult. Most have been in the profession for almost a decade and have worked with several firms.

"Most of us want this company to be the most well-known and sought-after conveyancing firm in Geelong and other Australian states. We must improve ourselves and exceed what we always do to achieve that. You are all great individuals who genuinely care about our client's welfare. Our compassion towards others will be our greatest strength to go to the top. We will be a great firm in the future with our compassion, unity, determination and perseverance. For me, caring for others is one of the significant traits a person should have in this kind of profession," said Thai during her speech at LEAD Conveyancing Geelong's anniversary party.

Parlour games and a singing contest were held throughout the program. Some newly-hired staff members gave an intermission dance, while some tenured employees delivered encouraging speeches to boost the newly-hired employees? confidence when dealing with clients. The program was a success thanks to the joint efforts of various departments of the company.

The elite and previous clients graced the company?s anniversary celebration with gifts to the personnel that successfully served them before. Also present at the party were the LEAD Conveyancing Geelong staff?s friends, families, colleagues from different branches of the company and their pets. The party began at noon and ended at midnight, lasting almost half a day.

The company might execute its plans in the second or third week of January next year. The legal services the company wants to add to their workload are transfer conveyancing, contract drafting and contract review. Those three conveyancing services are still being determined, as other services might increase them if the company sees an opportunity to do so. Currently, the company offers only two services to its clients: buyers? conveyancing and sellers? conveyancing. The plan will surely boost the number of their clients if it goes well, which would be possible due to the company lawyers? tested expertise in conveyancing.

LEAD Conveyancing Geelong is a rising firm in the state willing to go beyond what is needed to help its clients. It has a staff that values what they do and always thinks outside the box for the sake of other people.
