The company got its start when its founder, Louis Carter recognized just how poorly many established providers in his industry treated their customers. With confidence in his workmanship skills and a mission to change the way customers in Perth interact with their aircon contractors, Louis launched WestOz Trades in 2016. His earliest clients, who gravitated to Louis due to his high integrity, technical skill, and honesty, are still with him today. Now, the company also boasts a large fully equipped fleet of vehicles with several knowledgeable and experienced service technicians.

The effectiveness of Louis?s strategy to focus foremost on exemplary customer service has paid off. One can just read the reviews that the company has received from its clients to realize that its services have struck a chord. On its Google Business Profile, WestOz Trades has a perfect 5-star rating from over 80 reviews.

One review thanks the company for its support during an emergency by saying, ?Excellent service, Louis and his team are very helpful, attending emergencies at short notice. Lots of communication from Caitlyn which also keeps everything running smoothly.?

Another reviewer highlights the team?s dedication to customer satisfaction by saying, ?We had a few issues with our aircon & solar on our new build. It was installed by WestOz Trades Air Conditioning subcontractors. We got a great product at a fair price & would recommend it. Would gladly recommend this team!?

WestOz Trade?s services include refrigeration and air conditioner repair, maintenance, and installation for both new and established, residential and commercial properties. For landlords who own and manage multiple buildings, the company can act as a property management partner specializing in keeping all air conditioning units running and well-maintained with service contracts. Louis?s love for technology also shines through in the company?s home automation services that turn regular homes into cutting-edge smart homes. WestOz Trades works with established automation brands such as Myzone, Advantage Air (Myplace), and Airtouch, companies that are pushing the barrier in home automation, to install climate control systems, sensors, touch screen consoles, and more.

Louis talks about what customers from Perth can expect when working with WestOz Trades by saying, ?Our promise is honest and open communication to understand exactly what your home?s or business?s needs are and then delivering those solutions on time and within budget. Our high level of work is backed up by a guarantee of quality that you can rely on. Our services are fast.
