December 03, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rightnow Products Limited, a business based in Hong Kong, has recently released a new knee brace. The brace, which ships to this country, is already receiving many positive reviews. The company has also made available a wealth of information on the importance of knee braces for those who are involved in sports.

"Knee pain is incredibly debilitating and can have a huge negative impact on someone's quality of life," says Eric Arnow from Rightnow Products Limited. "People with knee problems find it very difficult to engage in everyday activities. A big concern for us is that people struggle to engage in sports. Thanks to our knee brace, they should once again be able to participate in physical activities."

This particular knee brace has been designed to provide both compression and support. This stabilizes the knee and leg, as well as protecting them from pain, strain and sprain during workouts. The brace has been very positively reviewed by people who have purchased it. "Most knee braces just plain suck," says Sarah Saarlooson, who is involved in yoga and snowboarding. "These are awesome. High quality & they work."

One of the reasons the knee brace is good for use by those who engaged in sports is because of the heat, which goes to the muscles, ligaments, joints and cartilage. It helps keep the muscles warm, in other words, ensuring a workout can be completed without any real difficulties.

"Purchased product and have used it for two weeks," says another customer who is happy because of the benefits of knee pain relief and support. "Knee feels much better when running and do not have the pain that I used to have compared with other knee supports I have worn." The brace has been designed to be used for everyday people, but particularly for those who are involved in sports that have a high impact on the knee joint. These include hikers, climbers, tennis players, runners, walkers, those who practice yoga and those who stand for long periods of time.

Rightnow Products Limited has made the brace available as a pair, so that both knees can be protected. As such, they are perfect for any sports activity.
