January 17, 2023

MELBOURNE, VIC - January 17, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

LEAD Conveyancing Melbourne, a VIC-based conveyancing firm operating in the suburb for many years, announced that they migrated to a prime location. The primary purpose of their relocation was to provide a more comfortable ambience for their current and future clients throughout the year and the following years. The new location's visibility would help people find the firm easily while driving down the road.

Previously located at Collins Square Tower Five, 727 Collins St, Docklands VIC 3008, the new office is now located at Level 2, Suite 9, 454 Collins Street, Melbourne VIC 3000, in a spacious modern building that any public transport can easily access. The larger space might allow the firm to modify its technology and resources, a matter it has been planning since last year. The firm is committed to staying up-to-date with the latest legal technology, and the new space will support its plan of adding new infrastructures.

The bright interior of the office receives enough natural light and has a more waiting area with a vast space, allowing clients to rest comfortably while waiting for their appointments. The parking area is also large enough to accommodate many cars during the day, a convenient thing for the clients of the well-received firm.

Another benefit of the new location for the firm is the modern-style conference room where they can conduct meetings with one another or clients. The room would allow them to have a professional setting while discussing matters with their clients. This is beneficial for clients who will dish out sensitive legal matters. Their clients can guarantee confidentiality on the complex things they want to discuss. Clients would be comfortable saying anything while they are inside the conference room.

Trinh Thai, Legal Director and Founder of the firm, stated that their new location would allow them to serve their clients better. "We are always committed to delivering a high-calibre output in every transaction, and we will continue to do it here in our new location. The new location will undoubtedly improve our coordination and team effort, benefiting our future clients and us. It is a space that is fully dedicated to our client's convenience. Most of all, our new office will enable us to provide better customer service for people who will visit us, which is the ultimate goal of our firm."

Apart from their relocation, the firm is also planning to sign up with another online customer review platform to generate more feedback. They said that constructive criticisms from their previous customers immensely helped improve the quality of their work and professionalism. They aim to sign up with Trustpilot in the first or second week of February to receive more feedback this year.
