Center for Aesthetics, a medical aesthetics clinic serving residents in and around Idaho Falls, is urging local clients to find out more about the CFA Trifecta, a proprietary combination anti-aging treatment created by the clinic?s founder, Dr. Catherine Durbarow, MD.

Dr. Durbarow has nick-named the treatment the ?Skip The Knife? Trifecta because it achieves noticeable results for clients without requiring them to undergo facial plastic surgery, which is often prohibitively expensive and can sometimes lead to scarring. The CFA Trifecta combines the latest and best skin tightening, toning, and deep tissue lifting techniques to naturally de-age the face without the costs and risks associated with plastic surgery.

The CFA Trifecta combines three revolutionary aesthetic technologies ? Ultherapy, Vivace, and PRP. Ultherapy is an FDA-approved, non-surgical cosmetic procedure that uses focused ultrasound energy to lift and tighten skin on the face and neck areas. Vivace radiofrequency micro-needling is an FDA-cleared minimally-invasive treatment that stimulates the natural production of collagen and has proven effective in alleviating facial wrinkles and fine lines and tightening and toning the face, neck, hands, and body. Finally, PRP, or platelet-rich plasma therapy, is a technique with roots in regenerative medicine that harvests the power of platelets by concentrating them in an injured area to heighten the body?s healing response.

The Idaho Falls clinic claims that its Trifecta treatment yields results for many patients almost right away, along with a gradual transformation of the skin over 4 to 6 months. For patients who want more, Dr. Durbarow also recommends the exclusive CFA Evernal series, a collection of treatments that refreshes, restores, and invigorates the face and neck.

Dr. Durbarow talks about her inspiration for creating the CFA ?Skip The Knife? Trifecta treatment bundle by saying, ?It may be surprising to find out that though I?m a surgeon, I prefer to use non-surgical methods when they are available. Non-surgical treatments allow us to restore your natural appearance from any viewing angle, something that facelifts don?t always achieve. Aesthetics technology has progressed to the point that we can not only look natural when we look at ourselves at home in the mirror but also when the rest of the world views us from all other angles. Until now, there wasn?t a reliable non-surgical way to lift and tighten the neck. However, here at CFA, we have packaged together the exclusive triple threat technology available today to make this happen. I?m not exaggerating when I say that CFA?s carefully crafted protocols can help you reshape your face and make you look 5, 10, or even more years younger.?

CFA is the regional leader in non-surgical aesthetic medicine treatments, with clinics in Idaho, Arizona, and Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Dr. Durboraw is a Board-Certified and ASOPRS (American Society of Ophthalmic Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery) fellowship-trained oculoplastic surgeon. She received her medical degree and completed her residency at The University of Tennessee, Memphis. She then went on to obtain a highly competitive position in an ASOPRS-approved fellowship with Orkan Stasior, MD, in Albany, New York.
