San Jose, California ? A well-known company offering outstanding tree care services in San Jose and its suburbs, San Jose Tree Service Pros celebrated its 20th year since it received its ISA certificate.

"Today," said Justin Gilfillan, the San Jose Tree Service Pros CEO, "marks exactly 20 years since San Jose Tree Service Pros received its ISA certificate."

Justin Gilfillan noted that the certification helped San Jose Tree Service Pros win its first clients.

"It is usually tough for a start-up business to get a client willing to work with it," said Justin Gilfillan. "Nobody wants to hire someone who has no experience. That was the case with San Jose Tree Service Pros 20 years ago."

"However, after so many struggles," continued Justin Gilfillan, "San Jose Tree Service Pros managed to get its first few clients, which helped the team to achieve the minimum work hours required to do the ISA test."

"Afterward," added Justin Gilfillan, "San Jose Tree Service Pros took the ISA test. Passing was guaranteed because as much as the company was new in business, it consisted of highly-trained personnel."

"A week later," continued Justin Gilfillan, "San Jose Tree Service Pros received its ISA certification. That marked the breakthrough of the company. Homeowners now started trusting San Jose Tree Service Pros with their trees. The bookings shot from a maximum of two appointments in a week to a minimum of 20 appointments within the same time. The company ensured it gave every tree owner that made bookings with the company high-quality services. That is how San Jose Tree Service Pros has managed to maintain every client that comes its way since then."

Justin Gilfillan noted that San Jose Tree Service Pros will plant 80,000 trees in the parks to celebrate the milestone.

"The main reason we maintain the trees is not even for financial purposes," argued Justin Gilfillan. "It is for a better environment. You can't compare the environment in an area full of trees to that without trees. Therefore, San Jose Tree Service Pros has decided to plant more trees in the parks to celebrate the huge milestone. The target is 80,000 trees before the year ends, but if things go financially well for San Jose Tree Service Pros, we won't mind planting more than 80,000 trees."

Justin Gilfillan also revealed that San Jose Tree Service Pros had acquired many other certificates after ISA.

"After the ISA certificate," said Justin Gilfillan, "San Jose Tree Service Pros has managed to get more than ten certificates. Among them is the TCIA certificate. That tells you how much we have advanced in terms of professionalism within the 20 years."

"Also," added Justin Gilfillan, "San Jose Tree Service Pros has won many awards. Most of these have happened because of homeowners since many awards are given after online voting. We are thankful for the support the homeowners have shown us over the years."

Justin Gilfillan noted that San Jose Tree Service Pros would keep its customers updated on its progress.

"We recently opened a tree service media room," revealed Justin Gilfillan. "We will use the page to notify homeowners about any other certificates San Jose Tree Service Pros receives or anything else happening within the company."
