St. Saviours, United Kingdom - Many people suffer from dry, callus feet but unfortunately either cannot afford to visit a salon on a regular basis or they simply do not want to show their feet in public. For them, many home remedies to help with this condition have become popularized online through various websites. One of these home remedies is the newly launched Bodi Hut's foot callus shaver that helps soften dry and cracked feet.

Bodi Hut is recommended as one of the first steps to remove the dry, callused skin before applying home remedy solutions. One of the most popular home remedy solutions is to apply vegetable oil to ones feet after bathing, then wear thick socks. This has been proven to be effective especially doing this at night before bed and wearing socks before bed. Results are usually seen within a few days.

Sam, a company representative said "Home remedies are great, we especially love the one with the vegetable oil. But, as most people realize these home remedies are great for maintaining smooth, soft feet but rarely can they remove dead, cracked skin. So, our callus remover tool is an obvious solution.?

Home remedies for dry, cracked feet are becoming more and more common. This is mainly due to the affordability to doing a pedicure at one?s home. Although many people think these home remedies are great for maintaining smooth, soft feet, many lack the power to first eliminate the dry, callused skin that one?s foot may have.

The Bodi Hut foot file callus shaver to remove dry skin is becoming a popular alternative to expensive salon treatments. You may apply first a spoonful of olive oil with a few drops of lemon juice then wipe dry before using the foot file. These ingredients should be shaken until it forms a thick solution and use when needed.

?My feet are so dry and cracked but I just can?t afford to go to the salon all the time. I?ve tried some home remedies, they are great after I visit the salon but when my dry cracked feet come back, I have to go back to the salon. But not anymore! I love my new portable foot file, I don?t have to go to the salon anymore,? said Maria, a satisfied customer.
