January 20, 2023 -
Roseville, California ? After many years of not offering tree planting services, Roseville Tree Service Pros announced that it is now open for tree planting requests in Roseville and its suburbs.

"For over 20 years now," said Saih Küçükaslan, the Roseville Tree Service Pros CEO, "Roseville Tree Service Pros has been working extra hard to give tree owners in Roseville and its suburbs satisfactory tree care services. For all that long, however, the company has not been offering tree planting services."

"It has always been the company's wish to offer all the tree care services," added Saih Küçükaslan. "Luckily, that has been fulfilled as the company is now well equipped and ready to give homeowners in Roseville and its suburbs professional tree planting services."

Saih Küçükaslan revealed that the company was not offering the service because of lack of tree-planting specialists. He then confirmed that the company had recruited planting specialists. The CEO noted that every time Roseville Tree Service Pros adds a service to its catalog, it ensures that it has professionals with experience and knowledge.

"For the tree owners that have had a chance to work with Roseville Tree Service Pros," boasted Saih Küçükaslan, "they know that the company is very cautious when handling trees. The company assigns every worker a task that he/she performs best. So the main reason hindering the company from offering planting services was lack of tree-planting specialists. Although the already existing tree employees would have helped tree owners, the company wasn't willing to compromise. We knew the skill that goes into tree planning is highly linked to the tree's future."

"Most tree owners don't understand that tree planting is deeper than just making a whole, then dipping the young tree roots' inside and then covering with soil," noted Saih Küçükaslan. "You must know other things like what the future tree will look like. So when Roseville Tree Service Pros was recruiting planting specialists, the HR department was cautious. The goal was to recruit a team with more than just book knowledge?we wanted a team with years of field experience."

Saih Küçükaslan revealed that Roseville Tree Service Pros was pushed to start offering the planting services by the high number of requests from homeowners. He added that seeing many trees stressed over the years due to unprofessional planting also made Roseville Tree Service Pros decide to start offering tree planting services.

"Over the years," said Saih Küçükaslan, "Roseville Tree Service Pros has received many tree planting requests from tree owners in Roseville and its suburbs. Turning them down didn't feel right, hence the decision to start offering tree planting services."

"Also," continued Saih Küçükaslan, "our team was coming across too many stressed trees. The team discovered that the stress was linked to bad planting. This observation made Roseville Tree Service Pros quicken the process of introducing the tree planning service."

Saih Küçükaslan also noted that Roseville Tree Service Pros plans to plant at least 5000 trees before the end of the month.

"With the new move," said Saih Küçükaslan, "Roseville Tree Service Pros expects to handle 5000 tree-planting requests this month. Hitting this target will be extremely easy?more homeowners have understood the need to plant trees. We have had many requests even though the company wasn't offering the service earlier. Once the 5000 limit is achieved, the company will share the tree planting and maintenance news with tree owners via its media room."
