January 24, 2023

OKLAHOMA CITY, OK - January 24, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cortes Law Firm, an estate planning law firm based in Oklahoma City, OK, is happy to welcome Jessie Rosson as one of their staff. And Jessie is excited to join the firm and thus broaden her career with the addition of estate planning and administration. She had started her career at the Oklahoma County Court Clerk's office, while she was still studying at the Oklahoma City University. And after she completed her BA in Religion with a minor in Sociology, she started her 17-year career in civil litigation. With Jessie Rosson Cortes Law Firm expects her to contribute significantly to the services they provide to clients.

Jessie Rosson had helped with brief writing and case administration before administrative courts, state courts, federal courts in various US districts, the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the US Supreme Court. She has also provided assistance for CJA Panel members with criminal defense in the Western District of Oklahoma. She was also the proofreader and editor of the legal treatise, "The Handbook of Section 1983 Litigation," by David W. Lee. She is excited with his new role and expects to form long-lasting working relationships with clients at Cortes Law Firm.

Steve Cortes of Cortes Law Firm says, "Proper estate planning is for everyone. Anyone can become disabled at any time. Oklahoma estate planning is about making certain your wishes are followed. Estate planning is the process of making sure your assets are distributed the way you want them to be after you die. This can be done through a will, trusts, or other legal mechanisms. It's important to have an estate plan in order to protect your assets and your loved ones. Without a plan, your assets could be distributed in a way that you don't want, and your loved ones could be left without the support they need. Family estates are something that should be protected."

The estate law attorneys at Cortes Law Firm can help in making estate planning easy and straightforward for them when the time comes. They can provide top quality legal representation to make sure that things will go smoothly with the various kinds of estate planning, such as: wills, powers of attorney, trusts, guardianship, and more. They are offering free consultation at Cortes Law Firm to provide answers to clients' questions on estate planning. There are various kinds of estate planning that can be used depending on the needs of the client.

Estate planning is vital for everyone, regardless of the amount of money or assets one has, and it provides various benefits. An estate plan can help in protecting the client's assets and family in case of death or incapacity. And one that has been well-drafted can help in making sure that the client's wishes are complied with in the event that they die or get incapacitated and can help in minimizing the confusion and stress for loved ones. It can also help in making sure that the assets are protected against predators and creditors.

Launched in 2013 by Attorney Steve Cortes, Cortes Law Firm provides probate and estate planning services for individuals, corporations, and businesspeople in Oklahoma City and neighboring areas. Steve Cortes has been offering legal services for estate planning for a broad variety of clients for over 22 years.

Steve Cortes says, "When you need Oklahoma City Lawyers we are here to help. As Estate Planning Lawyers Oklahoma City, I know that each individual and family is unique. That is why we take time at the beginning of each relationship to sit down and visit with you regarding your estate planning goals and dreams. To carefully listen to your worries and fears.
