Bounce USA, a company offering party rentals in Buffalo, New York, has launched a new website design. The website makes it easy for customers to find the exact item they are looking for on the website while at the same time highlighting the company?s most requested and most popular items. The new website showcases all the categories of products on the home page. This makes it easy to find the item that one has in mind quickly. If someone is unsure of the item they want to rent, the home page makes it easy to explore the available options. When customers click on the links on the home page, they are taken to the main page which lists all the items for that category. Each item displays its pricing. Customers can then click on the links on the items to find out more info about the product along with its availability.

When the customer is ready to secure their chosen carnival game or item, they can utilize the company?s simple, secure online booking option anytime day or night. The company claims to have a system that is more streamlined and modern than other party rental companies. The first step is to select the desired game or item from the company?s large portfolio. Second, the customer chooses the date and time for the delivery. Next, they need to enter the customer and event Information. Finally, the customers pay the deposit and digitally sign the contract for renting the item. The company will then be in touch via email with a confirmation receipt and to confirm delivery and setup before the event. The company claims to be the best option for those searching online for ?party rentals Buffalo?. A spokesperson for the company, Michael Miller, says, ?We are proud of the new website redesign.
