February 06, 2023 -
Leipart Heating & Cooling is helping Naperville, IL, residents get the furnace heat repairs they need to brave the cold winter and keep their energy costs under control.

Winter temperatures in Chicago, and other parts of Northern Illinois, average around 48°F. Historically, the city has also been on the receiving end of some of the heaviest snowfall in the state due to its location right next to Lake Michigan. Homeowners in the Windy City?s suburban areas need to ensure that their home?s heating is performing as intended for a pleasant season.

Some of the common problems that plague home heating and ventilation systems include a failing pilot light or ignition, clogged filters, aging and inaccurate thermostats, leaks in the ductwork, and more. This can lead to some rooms receiving inadequate heating, making them much colder than the rest of the home, and even high energy bills due to the inefficient use of fuel.

For homeowners in and near Chicago, Leipart Heating & Cooling provides all the services needed to keep the home perfectly comfortable even during challenging weather conditions. The company?s HVAC technicians offer free site surveys and give customers no-obligation quotes for the needed repairs or upgrades. Naperville residents can rely on its experienced crew to be reachable 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, for emergency service calls. Leipart Heating & Cooling also offers special payment options and a host of discount coupons on its website to help customers save money on its plethora of HVAC services.

The owner and spokesperson for the Naperville HVAC contractor, Jim Leipart, talks about what the company can offer its clients by saying, ?I started this company with one service truck and three employees and have grown it to one of the area?s most respected and recognized residential HVAC service providers. Our current rock-solid reputation in the Naperville community is the result of our ability to solve our customers? heating, cooling, and ventilation problems affordably and with the highest degree of certainty. We care to give our customers nothing but 100% satisfaction. Every job is completed on time as promised and if there are any problems, we will do everything in our power to set it right. When you contact us, you get access to the best HVAC professionals in Naperville with years of industry experience and an excellent track record of delivering reliable service. Call us today to make your home a comfortable oasis all year round.?

Leipart Heating & Cooling is a family-managed company providing a range of HVAC services including installation, hiring, servicing, and maintenance of air conditioning, furnace, heat, ventilation, humidification, dehumidification, close control solutions, wine cellar solutions, refrigeration, mechanical building services, and more. The company has received overwhelming praise from local customers for its superior products, helpful customer service, and affordable pricing. This is reflected in the perfect 5.0 rating on its Google Business Profile, from over 110 reviews, and the 5-star rating on Yelp from over 70 reviews.

One of its latest Google reviews talks about the company?s resourcefulness for working within a budget by saying, ?Our heat went out last night on a Saturday and Jim was amazing at being able to come out to fix the issue. It's an old model original to the house we purchased. We have been tossing around the idea of whether to replace it or not. He told me ?No need? and that he can fix issues to help save money. He was able to get the part we needed fast and have the issue fixed super-fast (like 15 minutes!!) Jim is your guy if you need any maintenance done!?
